TRAIT HAS BEEN RECOVERED.

But Has Been Deceived So Often He Will Wait Until He Sees It-Pinkerton's Statement.

LONDON, April 6 .- Inquiry by a representative of the Associated Press at the from which the Gainsborough portrait of the Duchess of Devenshire was stolen in 1876, elicited the repsonse that nothing was known by the firm of the reported recovery of the picture in Chicago. Lockett Agnew, a partner in the firm, did not apthe painting. He said the picture had so often been recovered that he was not prepared to believe it until quite sure that such was the fact. His cousin, Charles Agnew, had privately cabled from Chicago that he had bought a Gains-"That perhaps is the origin of to-day's story," said Mr. Agnew, "so, I will not pronounce an opinion until I see the picture in Bond street. he was in Bond street last week. Though Mr. Agnew tried to discredit the news, it was evident that he was aware it was more than likely to be true. Mr. Agnew desired to contradict the statement that the firm had offered a reward of £5,000 last year. He explained that when on the track of two mysterious individuals the firm offered a reward of £1,000, stipulating that the channel for the restoration of the picture must be quite legal.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT.

Robert Pinkerton Says the Stolen Masterpiece Is on the Ocean.

NEW YORK, April 6 .- Robert Pinkerton, est doubt about the recovery of the picture, and when Charles Moreland Agnew is some danger of losing the picture again. I do not think that the denial given out in London was authorized by the heads of the house. I aided in the recovery of the tire truth of the story. Referring to the published statement that on the steamship on which Mr. Agnew returns with his painting to England, but without his knowledge, the thief who stole it is a passenger, Mr. Pinkerton affirmed this allegation to be wholly without foundation. He added that the picture came solely in the care of Mr. Agnew and his wife and that the Pinkertons met them on their arrival here Friday morning and had charge of the painting until the owners went aboardship Saturday morning. Mr Pinkerton states of his knowledge that none of those connected with the transfer of the painting at Cnicago knew on what ship or at what time Mr. Agnew would sail and that all parties connected with the transfer at Chicago were in Chicago when Mr. Agnew sailed from New York.

COLOMBIA'S REVOLUTION.

Victories for Liberals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 6.-The Chronicle says: "Private advices received by the steamer City of Sydney from Panama state that the revolution in Colombia is far from ended and that the rebels are of March General Ulloa, at the head of the rebel troops, had a fierce battle in Caparrpi, State of Cundinamarca, in which of ammunition were left in the rebels' hands. General Ramod Neiro has won several victories over government troops in Boyaca, and Generals Currea and Ibanez keep up the fighting in Cundinamarca and Tolima. In these two states there are reported to be 8,000 rebels. Generals Neiro and Delgodillo have captured Moniquira, with 250 government soldiers. Generals Colimneres, Culminero and Ezcober, after a marked victory at La Palma against 1,200 government troops, have taken positions in Pacho and San Cayetano with 1,500 men. "The situation at Panama is becoming worse, and the government is again thinking of leaving the interior to the rebels, r Liberals, as they term themselves. Millburn submitted a statement to the effect that the funds of the exposition would meet all obligations covering the completion of the exposition with the exception of about $500,-000. After the recent failure of Congress to grant a loan of $500,000 to the exposition, Director General William J. Carload of Passengers Fall at Syracuse-Many Hurt, but None Killed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6.-While a car on the old East-side suburban line of the Syracuse Rapid Transit Company was crossing the James-street bridge over the Oswego canal, in the heart of the city, this afternoon, the bridge gave way, dropping the car and sixty passengers to the canal bed thirty feet below. Several persons who were crossing the bridge at the time went down with the car, while a horse and loaded lumber wagon piled on the heap. About forty persons were injured. It is not believed that any deaths will result, although there are reports of several of the worst injured being seriously hurt. Had the canal been filled with water the result of the accident would have been terrible. The car struck the towpath end first and then slid off into the mud at the canal bottom, where it stuck. The water would have been deep enough to cover all but a few windows and the front door, and many of the passengers undoubtedly would have

When the crash came persons on the street called the fire department. Ladders were quickly lowered and the injured carried up and sent to their homes or to hospitals in carriages and ambulances. For more than a year there have been criticisms of the condition of the bridge The structure was about eighty feet long and sixty feet wide. It was broken sharp off at both embankments, the entire structure going into the canal.

CASE AGAINST PATRICK

PROSECUTOR OSBORNE SATISFIED THE LAWYER IS GUILTY.

Says Jones's Story of the Killing of Millionaire Rice and Forging of the Will Has Been Corroborated.

NEW YORK, April 6.-The Times says: 'Assistant District Attorney James W. Osborne is satisfied that Valet Jones's confession on the witness stand that he murdered old millionaire Rice under the direction of Albert T. Patrick has already been sufficiently corroborated by the five chief witnesses Patrick could call in his own defense to warrant Justice Jerome in holding the accused man to await the action of the grand jury. Mr. Osborne contends that Short, Meyers, Dr. Curry, Potts and Mrs. Francis have already corroborated the valet's story in such important details as will assure the court of Patrick's connection with the crime. Patrick is the central idea in this whole chief criminal prosecutor last night. 'He times. The collection is valued at $10,000. in his name. He attempted to cash the checks. That purpose was to get the old man's money. And who got the money? Patrick. Who is Short who witnessed the bogus will? Patrick's creation. Who was Meyers? Patrick's clerk, who drew the will at Patrick's dictation. Who was Dr. Curry? Patrick's physician. Mrs. Francis was his housekeeper and Potts was his closest business associate. I don't believe Dr. Curry has anything to do with the death, and I think Potts an honest man. But still the testimony of these persons bears out Jones's story. Short and Meyers testicy to the witnessing and drawing of the will as Jones said they did. Potts says Patrick told him he was Rice's lawyer. Mrs. Francis says he never was. So does Jones. Why should Rice give Patrick, who was fighting him for his wife's heirs, his eight

The revolution has been a toothache remedy. The chloroform was sent by the American Express Company. Later he sent his brother two ounces more of chloroform and two ounces of laudanum. These were sent by the same express company. Jones, the valet, testified that Patrick told him that he spent the whole day Monday at his office, No. 275 Broadway, tearing up papers. The janitor of the building will be produced to testify that there was a light in the office of Patrick on Monday night. JUDGE EJECTED AGAIN.

Samuel Y. Gordon Not Permitted to Hold Police Court.

OMAHA, Neb., April 6 .- Samuel Y. Gordon, under suspension, pending impeachment proceedings by the City Council, for malfeasance in the office of police judge of the city, was again ejected from the courtroom by police officers for interfering with the proceedings of the court to-day Justice Crawford, the newly appointed held a session of the court this morning under police protection. The sheriff arrived at the opening of the court and read a mandate from the Supreme Court, restoring Gordon to the bench, but was informed by Judge Crawford that the mandate had no bearing on the new impeach ment proceedings brought by the City Council, and threatened to deal with Gor don for contempt in case of further in terference. After Judge Crawford had adcourt for the day Gordon atempted to hold a session of court, and was removed by the court officials. Sheriff Power appeared at the City Hall 100,000,000 barrels of Portland cement; also later, with mandates to serve upon Mayor Moore and the six councilmen who brought action against Police Judge Gordon. The mandates were from the Supreme Court. and ordered the city officials to comply with the decision of the court, which granted Judge Gordon the right to resume his seat. The city officials contend that they complied with the decision of the court by allowing Judge Gordon to take his office in Police Court and hold it for one day before he was suspended and action was brought against him in connection with the suggestion of the Supreme Court that the proper course had not been taken in trying a city official before the District Court. The councilmen say the mandate will not affect the proceedings now pending against Gordon

Then, too, there bled, affirm an unalterable allegiance to is a death scene at the close which, handled with admirable skill as it is, nevertheless proves painful. Over against these defects that would be pointed out by those who turn their backs to "Richard Savage" and will have none of it, are set the wealth of wit and humor with which the play abounds; the beautiful love story of Elizabeth Wilbur and Richard Savage; the delicate pastel of Anne Oldfield's love for the poet, known to all but himself; the sym-pathetic devotion of Phil Metcalf; and, above all, the splendid supporting company. Both judiences desired a curtain speech, but the actor surveyed the scanty number of people before him, smiled deprecatingly and was excused. Of his supporting company, it is difficult to decide whether Mrs. Louise Thorndyke Bouckault in her portrayal of "Nance" Oldfield or Miss Florence Rockwell as Elizabeth Wilbur made the deeper impression. Each, in common with the star, displayed ability deserving of a better reward than was given. Miss Jennie Eustace had the part of Mrs. Brett, the heartiess mother, than which a more trying role could scarcely be conceived, yet her acting was finished. Miss Margaret Bourne, as Jane Griffin, displayed exceptional talent as an emotional actress. The presence in the cast of Miss Deronda Mayo, daughter of the late Frank Mayo, was noted with pleasure. The men surrounding Mr. Miller included such excellent actors as Arthur Elliott. Owen Fawcett, Joseph for the use of the city government shall Wheelock, Herbert Lears, Alec F. Wonderfully realistic was the view of three streets in London in the locality of Temple Bar. It will be many a long day before a greater production is offered to patrons of the better class of drama in this city.

Mistaken Impression Corrected

The executive board of the Free Kindergarten Association desires to correct a mistaken impression concerning the present ficancial status of the association. On Everything in the Hardware and account of the passage of a law authorizing a tax for the support of free kindergartens, it is inferred by many that the society will no longer need the money which has heretofore been received through receive no moneys from that source until one year from this time. Therefore the managers desire to state that the work of upon the generosity of friends for another year, and they trust that the annual subscriptions will be continued for another

State Printing Board.

At the regular meeting of the State Printamount $8,087.90 was part of the debt incurred by the last Legislature, and $2,678.30 was chargeable to the state offices and institutions. It was expected that a new secretary of the board would be elected yesterday, but in accordance with the wishes of Governor Durbin the election was postponed until some future date. Thomas J. Carter, the present secretary, is a candidate for re-election.

Dan Kinney Arrested.

Dan Kinney, well known to the police, was arrested yesterday for the attempted theft of money from the cash drawer in Gibson's meat market at 1104 English avenue. In company with another man he went into the place, and while Mrs. Gibson was in the family living apartments attempted to get into the drawer. A bell on the drawer attracted her attention, and she came running back to the shop to see Kinney coming from behind the counter.

Arrangements for Policemen's Ball.

The programmes for the second annual ball for the benefit of the police pension fund, to be held to-morrow night, were rearrangements, with the exception of the finishing of the hall decorations, have been completed. The hall will be handsomely decorated with banners, flowers and potted plants. The music will be furnished by Beiser's Orchestra. The sale of tickets has been larger than last year, and it is thought the receipts will exceed $2,000.

CHIN IN

To keep the chin in, means to keep it well drawn back horizontally. That causes what physical culturists call "a lifted chest." A lifted chest insures deep and full breathing, and, hence, pure blood and perfect circulation. TRY keeping your chin and see how your chest will stand out, giving to a woman a superb figure, and to a man a military bearing.

Most Colds are caused by checked circulation, known as 4 chill or shiver. Dr. Humphreys' "77" starts the blood coursing frontage of 100 feet on New Jersey and through the veins until it reaches the extremities; when the feet warm up and the Cold or Grip is broken, while its tonicity sustains the flagging energies.
